

24th November 2011

Reference for Israel Research Fellowship

Dear Sirs,

The Henry Jackson Society has been the partner for two placements through the Legacy Heritage Fellowship, now the Israel Research Fellowship. Being a young dynamic and growing organisation, the impact of the fellowships have been extremely valuable – they have enabled us to husband our resources carefully while at the same time producing a variety of research and programming that just would not have been created without this valuable resource.

Owing to the significant competition for the placement, the candidates have always been of an exceptionally high standard. The last fellow was a good PhD candidate at a prestigious London University and with extensive prior experience in relevant sectors and government affairs. He was able to contribute expertise at the same time as acquiring a growing understanding of the British political context and challenges.

Yours faithfully,

DR ALAN MENDOZA
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR